Cultivating Community and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals: 2021

About this report

Cultivating Community's first Sustainable Development Goals report was released in May 2020, which mapped our projects over the last three years to the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals, using the targets of the goals.

Since our first report, we have continued contributing to the Goals in a number of ways. This is our second report and includes updated mapping of our programs as of April 2021 as compared to the 2020 report. For detailed information as to the Goals and our mapping process, please see the 2020 report.

Continuing the mapping process for our current projects enables us to see where we are having an impact and where future opportunities might lie.

Our contribution to the SDGs

Our top 5 SDGs: 2020 and 2021 compared

Zero Hunger, Quality Education, Sustainable Cities and Communities, Good Health and Well-being, Reduced Inequalities

This year, Reduced Inequalities became one of our top goals, while last year Responsible Consumption and Production was in the top 5.

Mapping against each SDGs and their targets: 2020 and 2021 compared

This year we mapped 70 of our current programs and projects against the SDGs and their targets: aligning to 14/17 SDGs, and 62/169 targets.

	Activities mapped to the SDG targets:	SDGs aligned to CC's strategies and programs:	Targets mapped to one or more of our activities:	Our programs that aligned with Goal 2. Zero Hunger:
2020	32	13/17	57/169	26/32
	↓	↓	↓	↓
2021	53	14/17	62/169	48/53
	↓	↓	↓	↓
	+21	+1	+5	+9%

An important note:

Our activities this year were heavily influenced by the COVID-19 Pandemic. While many new projects began to be developed this year, only delivered projects were included in the mapping. Additionally, the mapping conducted in 2020 mapped our activities over the previous three years, from 2017, whilst the 2021 mapping only included activities from that year.

As compared to 2020

This graph shows the number of times each of our programs matched with each SDG this year as compared to last year (shown in grey). This is shown by the percentage of programs that matched the goal from the overall number of programs mapped.
